To Whom It May Concern,

WG&R Furniture partnered with Mighty Oak Active Shooter Awareness Solutions in 2018 and found it to be a true investment for the team. Jedd Bradley did a remarkable job educating our team on how to respond and become prepared for an active shooter situation.

Active Shooter situations have become increasingly publicized by the media to include political views and beliefs. As a Human Resource Manager I looked for a partnership with an individual who would focus on the facts and educate our team on survival without taking a political stance. Jedd did just that!

The employees of WG&R Furniture are grateful for the time and energy Jedd provided. He is a true community advocate and leader in active shooter awareness training.

I'm honored to recommend Jedd Bradley to any organization, school or group looking to incorporate active shooter awareness. If you have any questions please do not hesitate to contact me directly.

Sincerely,

Lisa Horkman
