Dear Jedd –

I wanted to thank you for your continued support while continuing to educate our multiple teams across the nation on how to deal with Active Intruders/Active Shooters. All our teams at every location have embraced what was taught with many, many thanks and compliments received in not only bringing this training into our organizations, but also presenting it in such a way that made the content easy to remember.

The real-life examples, videos, and active discussions allowed for the training to remain memorable for years to come. I would recommend your type of training for any organization, school, or business. It was such a success that the teams at all locations cannot wait for you to return for follow-up training in years to come.

Thank you again for working with our teams!

Sincerely,
